Our Guatemala Living Labs Program is built upon the philosophy of the People’s Goals for Sustainable Development, a world-wide coalition of grassroots organizations that serves as a platform from which policy decisions can be influenced on a national and global scale.

Through sharing our relationships with local NGOs, we provide the tools for an emerging generation of individuals to engage in sustainability and social justice at the grassroots level. We bring together multidisciplinary and intercultural groups to design sustainable solutions that enable people to work smarter and live better.

Location:
Antigua and surrounding regions, Guatemala, Central America

For More Information
www.earthrightsinstitute.org
(310) 403 - 6693